11th Sunday in Ordinary Time June 17, 2018

From Fr. Steffl:

Thanks to Katie Prokosch for a successful and very well put-together Vacation Bible School for our students, focused on the lives of the Saints, our spiritual examples of holiness. This year we are cooperating with the Wabasso area parishes to provide the same VBS in both locations and helping each other out, so that if one time/location does not work, hopefully the other will. Thanks, too, to the many who volunteered to help and those who made donations to the program.

Next weekend, June 23/24 is the last that I am here at St. Catherine's and St. John's, and Monday, June 25 is the last morning Mass before I leave for my new assignment at Holy Redeemer in Marshall. Below is an article on priests moving to different parishes, that was written years ago by Fr. Jerry Meidl, a priest of the Diocese of New Ulm, and first published in the Prairie Catholic.

Just this week, I came across a quote on the priesthood by Pope Benedict. He said, "The faithful expect only one thing from priests: that they be specialists in promoting the encounter between man and God... The priest is expected to be an expert in the spiritual life." I have tried very hard to be the priest that the Holy Father is speaking about here, and am grateful for the encouragement and receptivity that I have received in my two years serving these parishes. And it is my hope that everyone will continue to pray for and encourage vocations to the priesthood and religious life from our parishes.

Happy Father's Day this weekend, may God Bless all Fathers!

Why do you have to move my cheese? by Rev. Jerry Meidl, Diocesan Personnel Board member

There is a book entitled "Who Moved My Cheese?" It is a book about change. Change is inevitable. All of us have to endure it. Most of us don't like it...at least initially.

This summer the diocese is moving a lot of cheese (figuratively). This summer a large number of priests are receiving new assignments, and many people feel like or will feel like someone is moving their cheese....things are going to change. All of us will endure it and most of us aren't going to like it.... At least not until we get used to it.

Change is difficult for everyone....for the priests who are transferred and all the parishioners who are involved. So why do it? Because it is good for us, good for the priest, and good for the people.

There are many advantages to changing priests and pastors. It is a time to transition for sure, but it can be a tremendous time of transformation for the priests and the people they are called to serve. All of us are different and have different gifts and abilities. If a priest is in a parish 20 or 30 years, what he is good at gets done. What he is not good at doesn't get done. For example, if he is good with the aging population, they will be well served. If he is not good with teenagers, teenagers would be neglected. Again, some priests are good at keeping up the physical plant (the buildings), while others tend to be unable to generate the interest to keep the buildings in good repair. The priest who follows has to make up for what should have been happening all along.

Depending on one's tone of voice this next statement may sound good or bad: "The priests are a bunch of characters." That is, we are all unique human beings, imperfect human beings, called to serve God's people.

Priest or lay person, we are all called to be Christ to the world. We are all called to let Christ's goodness shine through us. I like to think of it like this: We are all unique filters of Christ's presence. None of us are perfect filters but all of us have something unique to offer. For example, I am the Jerry Meidl filter of Jesus. It's not a bad filter but it's also not a complete perfect filter of Jesus, either. Like the sun shining through different colored glass producing its own unique goodness and beauty, each one of us reveals Christ's goodness in our own unique way as we allow His light to filter through us.

After having the same priest (or filter) for a number of years a new priest (filter) can help us see something new and move our spiritual journey along the path of growth and transformation.

Is this time of transition going to have its moments of difficulty? You Bet! However, if we are open to all the good that is meant to happen in these changes, it will be a time of transformation and growth, not unlike the early Church being transformed into the body of Christ here on earth.

OUR SYMPATHY

Our sympathy and prayers go to the family & friends of Marcella Plaetz, mother of Steve Plaetz. Eternal rest grant unto her, O Lord, and let the perpetual light shine upon her. May she rest in peace.

Thank you!

I wish to thank Father Steffl for his inspiring and respectful funeral service for my wife, Sylvia Rose. I also want to thank the hard working CCW ladies and all the helpers who put together a wonderful lunch. As all of you know it is very hard to lose a loved one, but it really helps when people like Father Steffl and the wonderful kitchen people and others make it a little easier on the surviving spouse. Suffice it to say I appreciated the hard work that everyone did and God bless you all.
